Honor® Show Chow® Hosts Fitting and Clipping Demonstration

Sedalia, MO – Honor® Show Chow® collaborated with the American Southdown Breeder's Assoc. to host a Fitting and Clipping Demonstration at the 2009 Midwest Stud Ram Sale. The Midwest Stud Ram Sale was also the host of the 2009 National Southdown Sale. This was the third year for Honor Show Chow to host a fitting clinic at the Midwest Stud Ram Sale, and the first year it featured Southdowns.

Mark Johnson of A&M Ranch and Jeff Repasky of Northern Starr Livestock presented the demonstration that included tips on shearing show preparation, fitting heads and legs, feeding and management. Both Jeff and Mark serve on the Board of Directors of the American Southdown Breeder's Assoc. and are Ambassadors for Honor® Show Chow®.

The attendance for the workshop was outstanding. Participants included folks from GA, MN, PA, TX, FL, TN, NY, CA, OK, IL, MO, IN, IA, KY, KS, CO, and Canada. Those in attendance were treated to a fast-paced, fun-filled educational program that also included a host of giveaways sponsored by the ASBA, Honor® Show Chow® and Andis clippers. The cookout that followed capped off a terrific program.

Thanks to the Oldenburg's, the Miller's and the Forsee's for running the Grill. Special thanks go to Dr. Kevin Burgoon, Honor® Show Chow® Nutritionist, and Gary Jennings, Exec. Sec, ASBA, for making this event happen.
